State Specific Duration Rules
Delaware	State Regulation limits the coverage period of short-term limited duration policies to 3 months in any 12 month period. The applicant cannot apply for a new coverage period until the person has had a 9 month break in coverage from the termination date of the last short-term limited duration policy issued by any carrier. The carrier shall apply the same underwriting standards to all applicants, regardless of whether they have previously been covered by short-term, limited duration health insurance.
Illinois	State Regulation limits the coverage period of short-term limited duration policies to 180 days or less. There must be a 60 day break in coverage between the original Short Term Medical policy issued by the same carrier. If the applicant's previous short-term policy is from a carrier that is not Companion Life Insurance Company, then the 60 day break does not apply.
Michigan	State Regulation limits the coverage period of short-term limited duration policies to 185 days out of any 365-day period. The applicant cannot apply for a new coverage period until the person has had a 180 day break in coverage from the termination date of the last short-term limited duration policy issued by any carrier.
Nevada	State Regulation limits the coverage period of short-term limited duration policies to 185 days out of any 365-day period. The applicant cannot apply for a new coverage period until the person has had a 180 day break in coverage from the termination date of the last short-term limited duration policy issued by any carrier.
Oregon	State Regulation limits the coverage period of short-term limited duration policies to 90 days or less. There must be a 60 day break in coverage between Short Term Medical policy issued by the same carrier. If the applicant's previous short-term policy is from a carrier that is not Companion Life Insurance Company, then the 60 day break does not apply.
Wisconsin	State Regulation limits the coverage period of short-term limited duration policies to 364 days in one coverage period with the total number of consecutive coverage periods not exceeding 18 months of coverage. The applicant cannot apply for a new coverage period until the person has had a 63 day break in coverage from the termination date of the last short-term limited duration policy issued by any carrier.
